Software development

At Nordalp, we create software tailored to your needs. Our team has extensive experience in developing software for Android and Windows, as well as in implementing barcodes (1D/2D), RFID (LF, HF, UHF), GNSS (RTK), and much more.

Our competitive advantage lies in our extensive knowledge of our own devices during development. This enables us to optimally integrate your software on smartphones, tablets or other mobile devices. We will personally support you from the very beginning with a dedicated contact person and a team that understands your vision.
